TEMPER YOUR TEMPER: If one were to observe the relevance of controlling the senses, to avoid that which is of little value, let's say, an ill-tempered mind or a grasping greedy heart. Rituals see within them a sedate pace, a way, a means of tutoring the young into a life of discipline and abstinence.

At this juncture, let's take a leaf from the Ramayana and peruse the quality of level headedness. Only recall Sage Viswamitra. As a King, he coveted Sage Vashishta's sacred cow. Time and again he attempted to wrest it away by force. But every time he did penance and gained superior powers he lost them by letting his temper ride high. Finally, he exercised supreme self-control and became, like Sage Vashishta, a Brahmarishi. This incident teaches us a lot about the value of self-control. When anyone lets go, and lets his temper ride high he hurts others but most of all he hurts himself; he is shamed in front of the Divine as much as in front of his conscience.

In a parallel vein, consider this parable to her followers whom the Mother often addressed affectionately as her children. One day, Lord Mohammed visited Paradise. Once there, he saw great palaces built on a height overlooking the entire countryside. Curious to know whom they belonged to, He queried Gabriel. The angel replied that they were meant for those who control their anger and know how to forgive their offences.

A mind at peace is likewise like a palace. The thoughts are like the dwelling place that one can, if one chooses, make clean, sweet and serene, full of harmonious notes; but equally one can also make it into a dark and dreadful lair filled with mournful sounds and discordant cries.

To bolster this line of reasoning, mull over this thought put forward by Sri Tiruvalluvar. According to him, self-control guards one against pride and anger. Want of it will push one into utter darkness.

Likewise, according to the Upanishads, the Lord of Death, Yama, tells young Nachiketa that the journey of life can be safely completed and the Supreme world of Vishnu reached only if one can keep a watchful control over the senses...

Voice filter turns angry screams into calm speech

Tokyo: A Japanese company has developed an artificial intelligence filter that can detect angry screams and translate them into calm speech in order to reduce the stress experienced by call centre operators.

Some large tech companies have introduced stress management programs that include relaxation techniques, meditation, yoga, or therapy meant to irritability and anxiety. However, one Japanese company may have come up with a much more efficient solution – using AI to completely take screaming and aggressive speech out of the equation. SofBank claims to have spent three years creating a voice filter that detects screaming and automatically translates it into calm speech.

It's unclear when SoftBank plans to implement the new scream-filtering AI into its call centres, but it will be interesting to see how well it works and how it impacts the emotional well-being of operators.

Phone company accused of exposing man's infidelity

London: A UK man is trying to take tech giant Apple to court for £5 million (6.3 million dollars), accusing the company of revealing his private messages with other women to his wife by synchronising his iPhone with the family iMac.

In the last few years of his marriage, Richard (name changed) had been soliciting the services of sex workers whom he had messaged on his personal iPhone. He was careful to delete the messages from his phone but did not known that Apple makes it possible to share messages via its various platforms (iPhone, iPad, or iMac) when logging into the same account. One day, when his wife logged on, she discovered spicy messages between Richard and sex workers. She divorced him and walked away with over 6.3 million dollars. Richard blames Apple for everything and he wants the American company to compensate him.

Bizman loses Rs. 2.96 cr. in city's biggest cyber heist

Another four victims from city lost Rs. 20 lakh on June 21

Mysuru, June 22 (RK&BCT)- In the biggest cybercrime reported in Mysuru to date, a businessman lost Rs. 2.96 crore to online fraudsters. Following the serious crime, the Police have advised the public to be aware of the investment scam and asked them to avoid suspicious links, WhatsApp calls and messages from unknown numbers.

Sources from the Cybercrime, Economic Offences and Narcotics (CEN) Police Station revealed that the businessman, whose name is withheld per the City Police Commissioner's directive, lost the money through online trading.

Police reported that, the 30-year-old resident of the city invested heavily in stock trading and online trading, where cybercriminals obtained his bank and financial details. The businessman voluntarily shared this confidential information, trusting messages sent by fraudsters through an online trading and messaging app.

This morning, he discovered that Rs. 2.96 crore had been wiped off from his bank accounts. He complained to the CEN Police Station, and efforts are underway to trace the criminals.

Police told Star of Mysore that most cyber fraud incidents involved fake trading apps, loan apps, gaming apps, dating apps and algorithm manipulation. Yesterday alone, four cyber fraud cases were registered in the city, with victims losing Rs. 20 lakh to online trading. In these cases, confidential bank data was systematically obtained, and money was withdrawn.

Police noted a disturbing trend where highly educated individuals, including doctors, engineers and IT/BT professionals, are falling for these well-coordinated traps. Despite good salaries, the lure of easy and quick money makes these educated individuals vulnerable, an officer explained.

In this online trading scam, victims see advertisements for free trading tips on social media platforms like Facebook, Instagram, WhatsApp or Telegram. Clicking the ad redirects them to an unknown WhatsApp group. Fraudsters in these groups persuade victims to invest by offering free trading tips for buying and selling stocks.

After a few days, victims are asked to install trading apps provided by the fraudsters, promising further guidance and huge profits. The victims then trade stocks based on these recommendations, depositing money into bank accounts specified by the fraudsters. Fake profits are displayed in the digital wallet.

When victims try to withdraw their 'profit,' they are told they must reach around Rs. 50 lakh or more in profits to do so. Believing this is company policy, they continue to invest as instructed. Eventually, they are asked to pay a tax on the profits. If they refuse, all communication ceases and they are blocked, realising they have been scammed.

Police ask media to protect cybercrime victims' privacy

Mysuru, June 22 (RK&BCT)- The City Police Commissioner B. Ramesh, has instructed the media to refrain from disclosing the names and addresses of cybercrime victims to safeguard their interests.

B. Ramesh

According to a media release from the Public Relations Officer of Mysuru City Police, there has been a surge in cyber fraud cases recently, resulting in numerous complaints filed at Police Stations.

"After filing FIRs, the names and addresses of victims who have lost money are often published in newspapers, causing embarrassment to the victims. Many have expressed objections to their details being publicised in the media. Therefore, we advise the media to respect the confidentiality of victims by refraining from publishing their names," media release said.

BJP stages demonstration protesting fuel price hike

Mysuru, June 22 (MTY&DM)- Strongly condemning the recent fuel price hike by the State Congress Government, the Opposition BJP staged a demonstration at Gandhi Square in the heart of the city on Thursday.

Addressing the protesters, MLA T.S. Srivatsa alleged that the State Government has been hiking prices of utilities ever since it came to power last year.

Maintaining that the recent fuel price hike has come as a big blow to the common man, he contended that the Congress Government would have hiked petrol and diesel prices much earlier, but for the Model Code of Conduct for the 2024 LS polls.

Stating that the Siddaramaiah Government has hiked prices of 9 essential items in the last one year, he alleged that the Government had utilised Rs. 11,000 crore meant for development of SC/STs, for its five guarantee schemes.

Charging the Government of acting against the interests of the common man, he claimed that rising prices of essential commodities, increasing crimes, arrest of Hindu Karsevaks on flimsy grounds and such other anti-people acts were the hallmark of the Siddaramaiah Government in the past one year.

"The Government should immediately roll back the hiked fuel prices," he urged.

City BJP President L. Nagendra, who too addressed the gathering, said that D.K. Shivakumar, who is now the Dy.CM, had taken out a mock funeral procession when the previous BJP Government had hiked petrol price by Re. 1 a litre. Wondering why Shivakumar is now silent when his own Government had hiked petrol, diesel price hike by Rs. 3 a litre, Nagendra said that the fuel price hike effected by the Congress Government will prove to be a disaster for the common man as the hike has enormous cascading effect.

Urging the Government to withdraw the price hike, he said that the people will teach a befitting lesson to the Congress if it does not mend ways.

The protesters later formed a human chain at the spot as part of the protest, which impeded traffic movement around Gandhi Square for some time.

District BJP President L.R. Mahadevaswamy, former Mayors Shivakumar and Sandesh Swamy, former Deputy Mayor Shailendra, party leaders Maheshraje Urs, Paduvarahalli Ramakrishna, H.G. Giridhar, Appanna, B.M. Raghu, Jogi Manju, B.V. Manjunath and others were present.

BJP-JD(S) truck to run in Assembly by-polls too

Bengaluru, June 22 (KMS&BS)- The alliance between BJP and Janata Dal-Secular (JD-S) parties will continue in the forthcoming by-elections to three Assembly seats in the State, the schedule of which is yet to be announced.

Home Minister Amit Shah, the BJP election strategist and Union Minister for Heavy Industries and Steel, H.D. Kumaraswamy (HDK), who is also the State JD(S) President, met in New Delhi on Wednesday and held discussions in this regard.

Following the election of Kumaraswamy, Basavaraj Bommai (both former Chief Ministers) and E. Tukaram to the Lok Sabha in the recent polls, the Assembly seats held by them — Channapatna, Shiggaon and Sandur respectively — have fallen vacant, with their resignation as MLAs, necessitating the by-election.

After the discussion, both Shah and HDK are learnt to have arrived on a consensus to leave Channapatna for JD(S), while BJP will field its candidates in Shiggaon and Sandur.

Like Lok Sabha elections, where the alliance emerged as a formidable force winning 19 seats (BJP - 17 and JD(S) - 2) in the State, both the leaders have decided to repeat the performance in the by-elections too and win all the three seats.

During the general elections to Legislative Assembly held in May 2023, JD(S) had won Channapatna seat, BJP in Haveri and Congress in Sandur.

Petrol, diesel price hike not for guarantee schemes: Mehroz Khan

Mysuru, June 22 (BLU&VNS)- The State Government has not hiked petrol and diesel prices to raise funds for guarantee schemes, said Karnataka State Guarantees Implementation Authority Vice-Chairman Mehroz Khan, here recently.

Addressing the media persons at Congress Bhavan in city, he said that the price hike was a usual process in any Government and added it was not related to guarantee schemes.

Alleging that the BJP was misguiding people about hike in fuel prices, Mehroz Khan said that the State Government had sufficient funds for guarantee schemes. "Nearly 4 crore people belonging to about 1.20 crore families are reaping the benefits of guarantee schemes. The State Government, which has already spent Rs. 36,000 crore on guarantee schemes, has reserved Rs. 52,009 crore for 2024-25 financial year, he said.

"Mehroz Khan also added about 4,09,34,896 beneficiaries were registered under the Anna Bhagya scheme for which Rs. 5,754 crore had been transferred to the beneficiaries bank accounts, 1.60 crore people under Gruha Jyothi scheme were being supplied with 200 units of free electricity for which Rs. 7,436 crore was allocated, Rs. 20,296 crore was spent under Gruha Lakshmi scheme with each beneficiary being given Rs. 2,000 every month, Rs. 4,857 crore is being spent on Shakthi scheme with 201 crore women being benefited," he added.

Stating that Chief Minister Siddaramaiah would decide on few recommendations of Congress leaders to keep the affluent out of the schemes, Mehroz Khan said that the Congress State Government had proved the BJP's allegations about State facing economic crisis as wrong.

"The guarantee schemes have not been implemented keeping in view of the elections. Instead, they have been introduced to provide social stability for the people of the State. There are no proposals to stop the guarantee schemes post Lok Sabha elections," he said.

City Congress Committee President R. Murthy, District Congress Committee President Dr. B.J. Vijaykumar, General Secretary Bhaskar Gowda, Girish, Arunkumar and Shivakumar were present.

SUCI protests against hike in fuel prices

Mysuru, June 22 (GA&KS)- Condemning the recent hike in petrol and diesel prises by the State Government, members of Socialist Unity Centre of India (SUCI) staged a protest in front of Dr. B.R. Ambedkar's statue in the Town Hall premises here recently.

The protesters, who assembled in front of the statue, held placards, shouted slogans against the State Government and expressed their anger. The protesters said that the Congress Government, which came to power following assurances to put brakes to increasing prices during the BJP rule, had failed to keep up the assurances.

The protesters also held the Central Government responsible for hike in petroleum products by imposing more tax and collecting crores of rupees in revenue.

Pointing out that the State and Central Governments were involving in mud-slinging on each other, forgetting the problems faced by the common man and also failing to control hike in prices.

District Committee Secretary B. Ravi, Members M. Umadevi, Chandrashekar Meti, V. Yashodhara, P.S. Sandhya, Seema, Harish, Sunil, Basavaraju and others were present.

River Kapila turns unhygienic: An appeal to authorities

Sir,

The sacred River Kapila that flows opposite Srikanteshwaraswamy Temple in Nanjangud has become unhygienic, making pilgrims hesitate before taking a holy dip. Waste items such as food scraps, plastic and discarded flower buds are abundant in the river area.

Additionally, on both the eastern and western sides of the 16-pillar monument (Hadinaaru Kaalu Mantapa) along the river, thick vegetation and civic waste have accumulated to the point where the water flow is obscured. The stagnant water causes dirt to remain in place.

The reason for this issue is a shift in the flow path towards the opposite bank, which worsens during summer. Restoring the flow path to its original state for about a kilometre upstream and slightly deepening the flow base at the bathing ghat would eliminate water stagnation, allowing the flowing water to maintain cleanliness naturally.

This solution appears to be technically appropriate, cost-effective and natural, avoiding need for man-made structures. Additionally, there is a need to periodically clear the thick vegetation and dirt from the bathing ghat to the 16-pillar Mantapa.

A vigilant watchman should also be stationed to advise visitors against dirtying the area. Despite the efforts of the local Yuva Brigade, who voluntarily cleaned the area by removing waste and silt, there seems to be no consistent effort from the Temple authorities or the civic body to ensure cleanliness.

Through this column, I appeal to the authorities concerned to address this issue and provide a permanent solution.

Cheers & Goodbye

The last true 'restaurateur' of Mysuru, Ponoo Muthanna, affectionately known to many Mysureans in their late 20s, 30s and 40s as Ponoo Uncle, passed away yesterday.

Ponoo was the beloved proprietor of the Pelican Pub, a watering hole he transformed into a sanctuary like no other in Mysuru, back when it was still Mysore.

Pelican Pub was the place where we met old friends, made new ones, laughed until our sides hurt, cried over broken hearts, fell in love and cheered our favourite sports teams to victory. For many, it was the place where we had our 'first drink.'

In a town where pubs could be intimidating, Pelican was a haven. It was the safest pub in Mysuru, where even single women could enjoy a beer and read a book without the fear of drunks behaving badly.

It was a melting pot where the well-heeled and the not-so-well-heeled mingled, treating each other with the same respect. 'Class' didn't matter here; all that mattered was that you had class — in how you behaved, that is.

This unique atmosphere existed because of Ponoo's watchful eyes. He was kind, witty, charming, decent and immensely respected. Clad in his all-white attire, he would personally visit each table and ask, "Is everything okay?" He did this even if you'd been a regular for decades.

If everything was not okay and he noticed you were in a sombre mood, Ponoo had a knack for offering words of wisdom without ever being preachy. If you were a regular, he might order you a mug of beer and suggest a book, usually something by Osho, to soothe your soul.

If you were on a date and hoping for romance, he'd crack a few mischievous jokes, playing the perfect elderly wingman.

If you were happy, he'd simply leave you to your exuberance with a smile and a, "I'm glad you're living in the moment."

Many joked that Ponoo Uncle was like a proton, always in a positive state of mind because he was a lifelong bachelor. But it wasn't that. He was a lifelong practitioner of 'living in the now.'

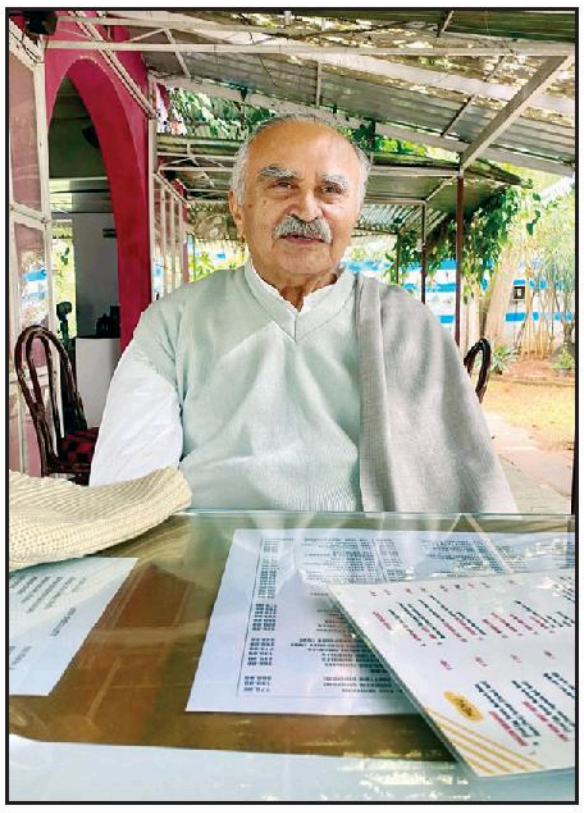
Long before words of affirmation became an Instagram trend, Ponoo filled Pelican Pub with affirmations and smart Alec jokes. One table sign read: "Between yesterday's mistakes and tomorrow's hope, there is a fantastic opportunity called Today — Live it, Love it! This day is yours."

I visited Ponoo's office twice in my life. Once as a young college student and again recently. The backdrop has remained the same — a poster of Osho Rajneesh with the quote: "Celebrate life. Sitting, speaking, smoking, drinking, dining, dancing, whatever you do, do it with awareness and in joy."

Ponoo Muthanna engrossed in reading a book at his office with a poster of Osho in the backdrop.

Interestingly, Ponoo served one of the best draught beers in town but never touched alcohol himself! But he taught us, unknowingly, how to pace our drinking.

We'd stand to greet him out of respect when he visited our table but knowing he might come back again later to check if everything was still okay, we paced ourselves. We didn't want to end up too drunk to greet him properly or to slur our words — no one wanted to embarrass themselves in front of him.



Ponoo Uncle at the Pelican Pub.

Despite his many virtues, Ponoo had one tiny flaw — he was soft-spoken, literally. We often strained our necks to hear him, and some older men stood up more to catch his words than out of sheer respect.

Over the years, Pelican Pub became Mysuru's reunion centre. During the holiday season, Mysureans from around the globe would flock to the pub, rekindling old friendships and making new memories.

Last year, during a conversation about the perils of old age and death, Ponoo said, "It is not death that a man should fear, but rather fear the regret of having not lived."

Ponoo lived. He lived on his terms and to the fullest. His graceful presence and handsome smile will be dearly missed by all his patrons at Pelican Pub.

Stakeholder workshop on Kukkarahalli Lake

INTACH Principal Director Manu Bhatnagar speaking during the session this morning.

Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) has awarded a tender worth Rs. 63,80,000 to INTACH for preparing a Detailed Project Report (DPR) aimed at conserving and rejuvenating Kukkarahalli Lake, providing the backdrop for this Stakeholder Workshop.

During his presentation on the lake's historical aspects, Prof. N.S. Rangaraju, a retired professor from the Department of Ancient History and Archaeology at the University of Mysore, highlighted the decades-long activism to protect Kukkarahalli Lake.

He underscored the efforts of activists like Prof. K.M. Jayaramaiah, affectionately known as 'Kere Jayaramaiah', MGP Founder Bhamy V. Shenoy and wetland expert and conservationist U.N. Ravi Kumar. Their advocacy has been instrumental in preserving the lake amidst challenges such as pollution and sewage discharge, which threaten this central water body in Mysuru.

Alongside the Save Kukkarahalli Campaign, there is a formidable movement to Save Chamundi Hill, led by environmentally conscious residents of Mysuru, highlighting the city's commitment to conserving its iconic natural landmarks, remarked the speaker.

Chola-period Lake

"Kukkarahalli Lake dates back to Chola period. There was also a 'Chola Kere', later known as 'Doddakere' near Mysore Palace, now sadly devoid of its lake properties and known as 'Doddakere Maidan'," he explained.

"The water from Kukkarahalli Lake was pristine and drinkable in 1968-1969, sustaining residents of Kukkarahalli village. Today, however, the water is unfit for consumption, emitting a foul odour that pervades the surroundings. Gallons of sewage and detergent water flows into it from Paduvarahalli, Jayalakshmipuiram, University hostels and PG accommodations," he lamented.

The Wadiyars, former rulers of Mysuru, displayed foresight by constructing the Dewan Poornaiah Canal, the primary water source for Kukkarahalli Lake. Spanning 22 kilometres through Bogadi, Basavanahalli, Dasanakoppalu, Maratikyathanahalli, Hinkal, Madahalli, Huyilalu and other areas, the Canal is now largely encroached upon, obstructing freshwater flow into the lake, noted Prof. Rangaraju.

Lack of conservation efforts

"The watchtower within the lake, built by the Wadiyars, equipped with a door, steps and mechanisms for water level measurement, is now dilapidated due to the appalling lack of conservation efforts by the administration," he added. "Kukkarahalli Lake, a public asset, must be safeguarded to prevent it from suffering the fate of 'Doddakere Maidan'."

The inaugural session featured a Database Presentation on Kukkarahalli Lake by Manu Bhatnagar, Principal Director of INTACH. Subsequently, Dr. R. Yadupathi Putty, an expert in hydrology and water resources, will address lake water management and hydrology.

Conservationist U.N. Ravi Kumar will lead a session on the rejuvenation and management of the Dewan Poornaiah Canal. Following these presentations, there will be working group discussions and the formulation of recommendations.

Submit proposal on including Town Panchayats in Swachh Bharat Mission - Urban 2.0: GTD

Mysuru, June 22 (BLU&DM)- Chamundeshwari MLA G.T. Devegowda (GTD) has directed the officials to come up with a proposal of including Bogadi, Srirampura, Kadakola and Rammanahalli Town Panchayats which come under Chamundeshwari Assembly segment, in Swachh Bharat Mission - Urban 2.0.

He was presiding over Hootagalli City Municipal Council (CMC) and Town Panchayats (TPs) progress review meeting at Jaladarshini Guest House here yesterday.

Pointing out that the four TPs (Bogadi, Srirampura, Kadakola and Rammanahalli), which adjoin the city, are lacking in infrastructure after they were upgraded (from Gram Panchayats), GTD directed the officials to finish ongoing works as per schedule.

Lack of funds

Officials told the MLA that barring the revenue generated from collection of taxes from citizens, the TPs were not getting any other Government funds. As such, there is shortage of funds for addressing drinking water problems and taking up cleaning works in the limits of TPs.

Rs. 25 crore action plan

Karnataka Urban Water Supply and Drainage Board (KUWS&DB) Executive Engineer Asif said that only Hootagalli CMC has been covered under Swachh Bharat Mission - Urban 2.0 (SBM-2.0). Funds can be got for construction of a proper Underground Drainage (UGD) network if the four TPs too are brought under SBM-2.0.

He said that a Rs. 25 crore action plan has been submitted for construction of an UGD system that connects Roopanagar with Rayanakere which can prevent drainage water from entering Ajjayyanakere Lake after passing through Somanathanagar, SBM Layout, Kergalli and Salundi. But the Government is yet to approve it, Asif noted.

The action plan also features setting up of an STP plant, he added. To this, the MLA said that he would raise the matter during the KDP meeting to take place in Mysuru on June 26, which would be presided over by Chief Minister Siddaramaiah.

District Urban Planning Cell Planning Director Shubha said that Nanjangud and Hunsur have already been covered under SBM-2.0. After collecting inputs from officials, GTD spoke to Directorate of Municipal Administration Director G. Lakshmikantha Reddy over phone and asked him to take measures for including the four TPs that adjoin the city, in SBM-2.0, for which the TP officials would submit a proposal.

Hootagalli CMC Commissioner Chandrashekar said that there is dearth of funds for providing basic amenities in MUDA approved 31 private layouts that come under the CMC. The CMC would be deeply constrained if MUDA does not release funds for taking up works. The CMC would take up developmental works on priority if MUDA releases Rs.10 crore for now, he said.

GTD took strong exception to MUDA's proposal for handing over layouts to TPs without providing any funds.

Maintaining that MUDA, which has collected development cess from residents has not executed any developmental works, he questioned what can TPs do if undeveloped layouts are handed over to them without providing any funds.

He wanted MUDA to release at least Rs.5 crore out of the development cess collected by MUDA to take up developmental works in handed over layouts.

Bogadi TP Chief Officer said that the MCC is refusing to accept waste collected in Bogadi TP limits for disposal at Vidyaranyapuram Solid Waste Treatment Plant, though it has been paid money for the same.

The MLA directed the officials to take up the issue with MCC Commissioner Ashaad-Ur-Rahman Shariff and get the issue addressed.

He also asked to arrange at least 15 vehicles for daily waste collection in Srirampura and Bogadi Town Panchayat limits.

MLA directs officials to pay compensation to land losers

During the meeting, officials brought to the notice of the MLA that land losers are not paid compensation of Rs.17 lakh for the land that had been acquired for construction of the road (costing Rs. 18 crore) that links Hootagalli Industrial Area with the Petrol Bunk. As such, the farmers are not allowing traffic movement on this road, they said.

GTD called KIADB Land Acquisition Officer Dr. N.C. Venkataraju and directed him to release the compensation amount due to the farmers immediately and thus end the problem. He later directed the officials to complete all works within the stipulated time by utilising funds meant only for the purpose.

TPs Chief Officers Ravikeerthi, Deepa, Suresh and Basavaraj, Assistant Engineers Manjunath, Sadashivappa and other officials attended the meeting.

Private Layouts will be handed over to CMCs, TPs: MUDA Chairman

Mysuru, June 22 (BS)- K. Marigowda, Chairman of Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA), has said that steps will be taken to hand over the Private Layouts handed over to MUDA to respective City Municipal Councils (CMCs) and Town Panchayats (TPs).

He was speaking to media persons after inspecting Somanathanagar and other localities, along with a team of MUDA Officers led by its Commissioner G.T. Dinesh Kumar on Friday.

Marigowda said "The Underground Drainage (UGD) and Septic Tank will be built at Somanathanagar, while a storm water drain will be built to facilitate overflowing water from Kergalli Lake. Following the instructions of Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, the Siddaramaiah Layout at Lingambudhi Palya will be fully developed by providing UGD and drinking water facilities."

Measures will also be taken to compensate the genuine land owner at R.T. Nagar by reaching the relief amount, he added.

Referring to the complaint of a Private Layout owner raising the compound wall, restricting the access to 36 houses near SBM Layout, that was received during Taluk-level Janaspandana meeting held at new Deputy Commissioner's Office in Siddarthanagar on Thursday, Marigowda directed the officers to issue a notice to the Private Layout owner and take measures to build the road for the benefit of aggrieved residents.

Upon the instructions of KR MLA T.S. Srivatsa, the Officers were also directed to construct UGD till the agricultural land belonging to one Chenna Reddy, after holding talks with the land owner, to remove the clogging of UDG water at Aishwarya Layout.

The other assurances made by Marigowda were steps to construct a Double Road from Naidu Store junction in Srirampura and to provide alternate site for the private party, to solve the issue related to traffic on the road stretching towards the Southern part from Gobbali Mara junction in J.P. Nagar.

Marigowda, who promised to hold Janaspandana programme at MUDA in the coming days, said gradually all the issues pertaining to residents of Private Layouts will be addressed, by bringing them to the notice of Chief Minister Siddaramaiah.

The issues persist, as neither the Private Layout developers are providing basic infrastructure facilities to the residents nor the local bodies, under the ambit of which the layouts are located, respond to them towards solving the issues, added Marigowda.

MUDA Superintending Engineer Dharanendra, Secretary Shekar, Executive Engineer Nagesh, Tahsildar Mohan Kumari, AEE Naveen, Meenakshi, Assistant Director Roopa, Prashanth, Personal Assistant Gangadhar, leaders G.V. Seetharam, B. Ravi, Prakash, Devaiah, Bangarappa, Mahadev, Badagalahundi Ravi and others were present.

NEET: Accused student admits to Q-paper leak

Copies of question papers sold by four accused for Rs. 30 lakh to Rs. 32 lakh

Patna, June 22 (Agencies)- Amid the raging protests over the leak of question paper of National Eligibility-Cum-Entrance Test (NEET)-2024 conducted on May 5 this year, a student, who had appeared for the test, has admitted to be a part of the crime along with his uncle.

In his confession statement made before Patna Police, 22-year-old Anurag Yadav has stated that "My uncle had told me to come over to Bastipur in Bihar from Kota in Rajasthan, where I was staying then, saying that all arrangements have been taken care of."

Anurag Yadav's uncle Sikandar Prasad Yadavendu is an engineer at Danapur Town Council in Bihar. He had allegedly given the NEET Question Paper on the eve of NEET on May 4, to his nephew telling him to prepare for the same, along with the answers provided to him, according to Anurag's statement.

"After returning from Kota, my uncle had taken me to Amit Anand and Nitish Kumar, where I was given the Question Paper and Answer Sheet. They told me to study throughout the night and remember the answers. My exam centre was at D.Y. Patil School," said Anurag.

When tallied with the Q-paper received on the day of NEET, the contents were similar to the question paper, he had got before hand, Anurag has stated further, admitting to be a part of the crime.

Meanwhile, all the four accused arrested in the case — Anurag Yadav, his uncle Sikandar Prasad Yadavendu, Amit Anand and Nitish Kumar — are suspected to be the master minds behind leaking the question paper.

According to sources, the accused had sold the copies of question papers for Rs. 30 lakh to Rs. 32 lakh to the aspirants.

Congress leader Rahul Gandhi has alleged that "With the arrests made from Bihar, Gujarat and Haryana, it is clear that there was an organised racket involved in corruption related to NEET, with BJP-ruled States being the sources of Q-paper leak."
